

PHILOSOTHON STIMULUS MATERIAL

Resource 1

Is there anything that is absolutely true?

Please click on the link below and listen to the stimulus material and then come up with your own question which must be submitted to the organisers before the event.

- Download audio

Sunday 17 September 2017 5:30PM

Justifying your beliefs is harder than it looks, yet still we seem to be certain about various things. While many of us cling to the beliefs we hold to be true with dogged certainty, can we really justify them? And if absolute truth is elusive, does that mean that anything goes, and anyone is free to believe anything is true? Leave your certainties at the door as we enter the bedevilling matrix of truth.

Image: When you enter the matrix leave your certainties at the door; the truth is not what it seems. (Flickr: Eric Bjerke CC BY-NC-ND 2.0)

<http://www.abc.net.au/radionational/programs/philosopherszone/what-the-matrix-tells-us-about-truth-scepticism-and-reality/8872396>